FRANK JORDAN

Sonoma Man Sure of High Court Seat, Declares Secretary.

Judge Emmet Seawell is now leading Judge William A. Sloane by 88,000 votes, with three counties yet to be heard from, in the race for associate justice of the Supreme court, and will win by a probable majority of 80,000, according to statement made today by Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan.

The counties from which official returns are yet lacking are Alameda, Riverside and San Bernardino, and Alameda county is expected to give Seawell a large vote, Jordan said.

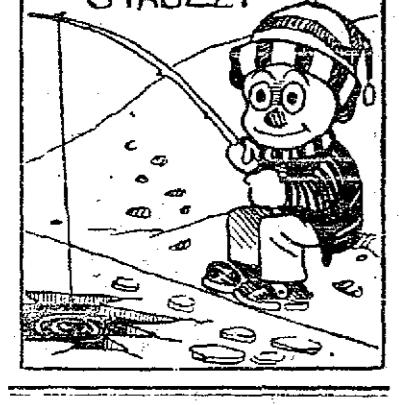

Jordan's statement was made in reply to figures given out last Wednesday by Chairman Albert E. Boynton of the Republican State Central committee, tending to show that Sloane was leading Seawell by 8,000 votes. The figures, according to Boynton, were based upon private reports which he had received from the fifty-eight counties in the state.

"Chairman Boynton's figures caused a sensation," said Jordan, "but they are incorrect. As far as my office has checked up on the actual justice contest, Seawell has a lead number 388,000, while Sloane has only 389,000. Seawell will be elected and his majority will be second only to that of Kerrigan."

A Stubborn Cough Loosens Right Up

This home-made remedy is a wonder for quick results. Easily and cheaply made.

Here is a home-made syrup which millions of people have found to be the best medicine for breaking up stubborn coughs. It is cheap and simple, but very prompt in action. Under its healing, soothing influence, chest soreness goes, phlegm loosens, breathing becomes easier, tickling in throat stops and you get a good night's restful sleep. The usual throat and chest colds are conquered in a few hours or less. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness, cough, throat tickle, bronchial asthma or winter coughs.

To make this splendid cough syrup, pour 2½ cups of Pinex into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup and shake thoroughly. If you prefer use clarified molasses, honey or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, in the same way, you get a full pint—a family syrup—of much better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norwegian pine extract, known the world over for its healing effect upon the membranes.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for 2½ ounces of Pinex with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., St. Wayne, Ind.

Exposition
For Women
Planned Here

By EDNA B. KINARD.

Plans are being widely discussed among the members of the local Business and Professional Women's Club for a Woman's Exposition in the Municipal Auditorium soon after the new year. Should the ambitious project carry demonstration will be made of the industrial and commercial aspects of life, and professional activities of the self-supporting woman in Alameda County. A visual display attempting at once to show her importance in the economic world and the progress which she has made in the past few years will be offered. Keen interest is being manifested in the large undertaking which will reach far beyond the limits of club membership to include all feminine occupations. The suggestion for the Exposition had its inception in the club exhibition of members' work which was held in the Broadway quarters last month, attracting several hundred interested visitors.

The New York Business and Professional Woman's Club recently sponsored such a project as proposed by the local organization, focusing the eyes of the nation upon the outstanding event even in that city.

The annual holiday bazaar which the Woman's Alliance sponsors is dated for Thursday and Friday of the coming week and a general chairman for the benefit, which will be held in the First Unitarian Church, Fourteenth and Castro streets. She is being assisted by the following committee chairmen: Mrs. Charles Wendt, entertainment; Mrs. George Sisson, decoration; Mrs. H. G. Tardy, fancy work; Mrs. L. P. Baker, aprons; Mrs. George Newton, candy; Mrs. M. Clough, flowers; Sidney Lambert, Ray Lambert, toys.

Five hundred guests will assemble in the ballroom of Hotel Oakland on Monday night to enjoy an hour at cards that the Christmas Club may be swelled to accomplish many kindly deeds on behalf of those who lack at the Yuletide season. Mrs. Nellie M. Drake is chairman of the committee on arrangements, assisted by Miss Violet Richardson, president, and Mrs. Helena Gamble, secretary.

Mrs. Erma Randolph, mezzo soprano, and Mrs. Grace Borroughs will contribute groups of numbers to a short program which is arranged for the later hour. Mrs. Borroughs will appear in a group of Oriental dances.

Harry Caldwell, of the local bureau of identification, and Mrs. Antoinette Abbott Adams, San Francisco attorney, will share the platform of Oakland Center, California Civic League of Women Voters, at the regular meeting on Friday afternoon next in Alameda Temple.

Caldwell will present the system of fingerprint identification being used by police departments. The 3 o'clock program will be preceded by a business session which will be called for 2 p.m. Mrs. C. E. Wilson, president, will preside.

Mr. W. S. Morgan, a member of the faculty in the Unitarian Theological Seminary, and president of the Berkeley City Club, has written a ceremonial which will be presented late in December at the annual Christmas program of the Hillsdale Club. The theme is Celtic, introducing many ancient Welsh songs which will be rendered by the club chorus under the direction of Mrs. Alexander E. Graham.

A special meeting of the members of the College Women's Club has been called by the president, Mrs. Eugenia L. Colby, for Saturday, December 12. At this time the by-laws of the organization will be amended to conform with the law of the state of California.

The college girls are proving as well as having reduced their cost on the Berkeley property.

Twenty-five of the younger girls were guests at tea yesterday afternoon at the Bellevue apartments when Miss Adriel Zahn presided as hostess. Again today the same number of guests were entertained at tea, the hostess being assisted by her mother, Mrs. Thomas Phibby, receiving.

VISIONS RELATIVES IN SOUTH

Miss Vivian Baxter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Baxter of Piedmont, has gone to Los Angeles for the holidays, and will visit her sister, Mrs. Gardner Pond. Miss Baxter is a Delta Gamma and University.

The Misses Vera Borchard, Vera Hahn, Anita Avila, Mary Elizabeth Fox, Marion Brandt, Alice Turner, Adrienne Leonard, Helen Deamer and Margaret Chamberlain are among the younger girls attending college who were recently elected to membership in the Pnytanean Honor Society.

Mr. Edward Veltch of Piedmont will be hostess at bridge December 12, the affair to be held at the Hotel Oakland. Fifty guests have been asked for the afternoon.

TEA IN HONOR OF TRAVELERS

Cards are out for a tea which Mrs. Eugene Prince of Alameda will give December 17 in compliment to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eric Whittemore of London. The marriage of the California girl, who was Miss Virginia Cook, took place abroad a year ago. Mr. and Mrs. Whittemore are now en route to the Orient.

Piedmont Interdenominational church is to be the scene of the marriage of Miss Mildred Olsen and Lieutenant Benjamin Shields (Capt. U. S. A. C. this year).

Luncheon at Country Club
In Berkeley

Baskets of golden chrysanthemums and bright colored blossoms adorned the tea table at the Berkeley Country Club yesterday afternoon, when Miss Ruth Sorick presided as hostess at bridge in compliment to Miss Alma Smith, whose betrothal to James Warner Chambers of San Jose was announced this fall. Assisting the hostess to receive was her mother, Mrs. Ida H. Sorick. Among those who played bridge were the Misses Alma Smith, Ruth Taylor, Gladys Owen, Marion Peterson, Ione Long, Lorene Johnson, Rowena Martin, Edythe E. Denton, Frances Morris, Alberta Clark, Marion McEaney, Roberta Berry, Gertrude Holland, and Mesdames Albert Biehl, Wendell Chapman, Hobart Miller, Edward Burg, George Robinson, and Mrs. Henry Willard Taylor. DATE FIXED FOR FIGHTS. S. F. O. T.
RAILWAY STOCK

Referee Issues Order to Trust Committee On Release of $700,000 in Shares.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 2.—One of the most important legal fights in the bankruptcy case of the United Properties company before Referee A. B. Kreft and one that will have material effect on the pending reorganization scheme of the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railways will be engaged in on Thursday next.

Yesterday Referee Kreft issued an order to show cause why the Mercantile Trust company, alleged to be holding 5733 shares of the local railway stock valued at $700,000, should not receive authorization from the advisory committee of the F. M. Smith trust to turn over the block to the trustees in bankruptcy, Louis H. Bien.

According to contention of Trustee Bien this stock, referred to in the proceedings as "free stock," was turned over to the F. M. Smith by the corporate directors of the United Properties in 1914. The stock was placed with the Mercantile Trust company for the benefit of Smith's creditors. Bien contends that this transaction was void and of no effect under the state laws.

The Mercantile Trust company is alleged by the petitioners to be holding the block of "free stock" but is said to have refused to respond to a demand made for it by the trustees in bankruptcy in November of this year. Yesterday's order of Referee Kreft cites Frank B. Anderson, chairman of the F. M. Smith trust and the Mercantile Trust company to appear and show cause why the delivery should not be made.

Her attorneys said they hoped to provide bonds soon. Mrs. Roe has been in jail nearly two years. Her counsel contended the imprisonment was impairing her health.

My Marriage Problems Ole Garrison's New Phase Of Revelations of a Wife

THE PROMISE THAT KATIE MADE SEEM A VOW.

"Meester Graham."

Katie's voice held the same inflection of mischief and glee which I had seen in her face when we made our exit through the side door of the restaurant. The conviction deepened in my mind that she had some reason to fear the possible wrath of the restaurant proprietor whose service she had quitted so unceremoniously.

"Yes, Katie, what's on your mind?"

Katie giggled in embarrassed fashion.

"I think we better take dot taxi cab and get away from dis place oveck as we can." She indicated an empty machine, with the driver standing idly near it.

Dicky looked at her keenly, then without a word, but with an odd little smile, lifted his stool, sum money the man and put us into the machine. As he did so, I looked nervously back and saw the restaurant proprietor come pell-mell out of his door and look wildly up and down the street. Luckily he looked the other way first, and at the driver's question as to our destination, I blurted out the first thing which came into my mind.

"Brooklyn Bridge and hurry."

"I TRYIN' TO TELL."

"what the—" Dicky began in amazement, but I put my finger to my lips and he contented himself with glaring at me until we had safely rounded the corner without the restaurant proprietor catching sight of us, a fact of which I assured myself by turning and looking through the rear window.

"The restaurant man was lookin' for us I am sure," I said in explanation at last, turning and facing my irate husband. "so I said the first thing which came into my head."

"Dots shoost so coot as any place," Katie announced cheerfully. "I got me a room o'er here couple blocks, but my rent she paid, so romans vot lose nooddles and I got noodles o'er dots but old nightgowns and sweater dot I goin' git pretty quick to rummage sale. All my good things o'er to my cousin's not very far from Brooklyn Bridge and my comb and brush and little tins and clean cloises in hers"—she indicated a small bag in her hand. "I always keep dese things handy and shoost now I slip my suit o'er my work dress. I feex my ooo at my cozine's eef you have time."

KATIE CONFESSES.

Dicky consulted his watch.

"We have plenty of time, for we can get lunch while you are at your cousin's—can you get something to eat there?"

"Oh yes! She feex me somethin' nice."

"Then, that's settled. But now—affection a sternness which I knew he did not feel—"suppose you tell me you imp, what you did to make you so afraid that restaurant proprietor was on your trail!"

Katie looked slyly up at him.

"I tried to tell," she said, but her voice held nothing of remorse or shame. Instead, it carried a note of jubilation.

"Try to conquer your fear," Dicky said dryly.

"You mean?" Katie demurely asked, and as I well as I know her I could not tell whether her blank expression was real or assumed.

"I mean," thundered Dicky, "to stop this nonsense and tell us what you did. We may get into a dickens of a mess. There may be a policeman after us now."

I almost laughed aloud myself at this suggestion, and Katie was not in the least impressed.

"It's pretty smart policeman off my own name ven I go by heem to work, and nobody knows me o'er dot side of river. But I bet he awfu' mad shoost same."

"Katie!" My voice held the note which has rarely failed to bring obedience from her. "I want you to tell me at once what you did."

She quivered, looked at me and giggled impishly again.

"Nolings moosh," she said. "Old paeg, I wish I could feex him good and plenty. But I bet we can get kerosene oil and I pour eat into refrigerators, and oefor everything else I could reach. I didn't have time to feex everything," she added with a regretful note.

Dicky threw back his head and laughed long and heartily, while I tried in vain to look properly shocked, and Katie grinned in gamin-like triumph.

"Katie, I've certainly got to slip you the frosted cake," Dicky said at last wiping his eyes. "What a prize winner you'd be for the cooks' union when they're on a strike. But don't you ever take a notion to pour kerosene oil over the food in our refrigerator. If you do, you'll run back to your restaurant man to get away from me."

"Poo!" Katie registered scornfully. "I have, but I have to be a fool and pett hog. Und I never, never long as I live go away from my peoples again. I souch a fool to make all this mas shoos about feelin' bad for dot Jeem. Ven he comes home he coom, he do all."

Which philosophical observation was the only one I heard Katie make upon Jim's absence and her own adventure for many a day.

I WENT to the movies to see the season's greatest thriller

It started out with a fist fight and got more exciting at every foot of film that was un wound.

After a terrible battle the villain knocked the hero down, picked up the heroine and leaped out of a third-story window with her in his arms, landed astride a conveniently located horse and went galloping away.

The hero recovered, gave chase on a bicycle, transferred to a motorcycle, thence to an auto and finally to an airplane.

News of the Churches
Babies Are Honored at Services

Famous Admonition of Scripture is Theme of Pastor's Sermon

At the Thousand Oaks Baptist church in Berkeley last Sunday, a unique service of dedication of babies and other young children was observed. Rev. Albert Ehrhart, the pastor, took as his text, "Jesus called them unto Him, saying, Suffer the little children to come unto Me and forbid them not; for of such is the kingdom of God."

In part the Rev. Ehrhart said, "There are three accounts of the approach to Jesus on the part of parents with children—two of them speak of 'little children' and one of 'babies' who were brought for Him to lay His hands on them, and pray,—to touch them, and say, 'He took them in His arms, blessed them, and laid His hands upon them.'

"Clearly this is not an ordinance—it certainly is not Baptism—but it is an act of dedication on the part of the parents to the Lord.

They had seen Him touch the sick and they were healed. He had touched the dead and they were raised to life. These fond parents wanted to bring their dear little ones into touch with the Redeemer."

The minister explained that it was the parents and not the preacher who was dedicating the children to God's service.

The parents each in turn very earnestly expressed the purpose to dedicate their children to the whole will of the Lord, to prayerfully cooperate with God in their highest spiritual welfare and when they came to the age of moral responsibility they would encourage them to make a public confession or their self-chosen Saviour in Baptism.

The names of the parents who thus dedicated their children and the names of the children follow:

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Cook; Patricia Jane and Francis Allen; Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Chandler; Janet and Sheila; Mr. and Mrs. Grover Gourley; Carol Jean; Mr. and Mrs. John S. Meadough; Mary Katherine; Mrs. and Mrs. E. W. Sawyer; Margaret; Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Strip; Betty Shirley and Pat; Mr. and Mrs. Will B. Moonie; David Livingston and Clyde Wickliffe; Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Richards; Jane and James.

Others are to be dedicated tomorrow.

S. F. FINANCIER DIES AT HOME

LEGION MEN SEEK TO BAN GADSKI

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 2.— Funeral services are being arranged today for Oscar Harold Wiggo C. Norman de Bretteville, father of Mrs. A. B. Spreckels. He died last night at the age of eighty-two, at the De Bretteville home, 1064 Franciscan street.

De Bretteville for many years occupied a high place in San Francisco's financial and commercial life. Although he had been educated with a view of entering the diplomatic service in Germany, he came to San Francisco in the early days.

Many of De Bretteville's relatives and intimate friends were people of distinction. He was a cousin of Nansen, the Danish explorer, and of Pierre de Bretteville, who was a close friend of the Marquis de Sade. His grandfather was Marquis de Bretteville, a French Revolution general.

He was an intimate friend of De Bretteville at the time of his birth. Hans Christian Andersen, close friend of the De Bretteville family, wrote one of his best known tales.

A thousand invitations have been issued by officers of the Tuberculosis Society for the luncheon. Responses are being received at the Ethel Moore Memorial Building, 121 East Eleventh street.

PIEDMONT, Dec. 25.—That city officials should have no authority to interfere in the affairs of a school board, was the statement before the Board of Freeholders last evening by Professor W. M. Hart of the University of California. Professor Hart appeared before the board to advise it in the framing of that part of the city charter dealing with the school board. He said it was unsafe to give the city officials authority even to audit the books of the department of education or to check up on its accounts in any way, and that if the city desired information funds, the information should be obtained from the county auditor.

Mrs. B. C. Glass and Walter Brun, members of the school board and Professor W. H. Jones, city superintendent of schools, also appeared before the Board of Freeholders in an advisory capacity.

A committee, consisting of R. A. MacEachlin, A. C. Wagner and R. C. Warner, was appointed to give special consideration to the provisions of the charter dealing with the school board.

The Board of Freeholders adopted the following resolution regarding a matter which is now prominent before the people:

"Whereas, it is reported that the board of school trustees has called a bond election in Piedmont for the construction of additional school buildings and for other purposes and whereas it is the opinion of this Board of Freeholders that greater benefits will accrue to the city if such election is postponed until after the citizens and taxpayers of Piedmont have an opportunity to vote upon the new charter. Therefore, be it

"Resolved that the board of school trustees be requested to cancel the call for such bond election and postpone considering the same until after the new charter has been adopted.

"Be it further resolved that the same be so voted upon by the people of the city of Piedmont as soon as the new charter is adopted.

"Be it further resolved that the new charter be so drawn up as to provide for the election of a new school board, so that such proposed bond issue may be taken up and considered in relation to the provisions and powers specified in such new charter."

RAIL ROAD MEN

OPPOSE PLAN FOR RAIL DIVORCE

Separation of S. P. and C. P. Would Injure Workers. They Say.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2 (By Associated Press).—Labor leaders who have objection to the separation of the Southern Pacific and Central Pacific railway systems were given hearings today before the Interstate Commerce Commission, which is considering the Southern Pacific's request that "her merger be continued."

Warren S. Stone, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, told the committee he feared a separation would endanger the road's employees.

"If this segregation takes place," he said, "large numbers of our older men now on the Southern Pacific will have to move away from terminals where they have established homes and made themselves comfortable places in life, while considerable numbers of others will be forced out of employment."

"Seniority means everything to our men in train service, because by it they have worked themselves up to places of responsibility and regularity. Separation of those two railroads means wiping away by a stroke of the pen the establishments of a lifetime of these men."

"In the general aspect, I see this separation proposal as causing the destruction of a transcontinental railroad and the making of two fourth-class railroads. It means turning over the entire Pacific coast to the Union Pacific."

Denver Firm Puts $350,000 in Oakland

Introduction of eastern capital into the upbuilding of Oakland was evidenced again today by the announcement of the real estate firm of Wachs Brothers that the Scholz Mutual drug company, of Denver, has been the principal in a $350,000 leasing deal whereby a ten-year lease on the location of the Roos Brothers at Thirteenth and Washington streets has been taken.

The Denver drug company will occupy the premises on August 1, 1923, according to Wachs Brothers, and in the interim the store space will be entirely remodeled and equipped with one of the most up-to-date drug stores in the bay region.

Co-incident with this announcement came the further notice from the real estate operators that the stores located at 1222-1224 Washington street have been leased to W. J. Cox, who will remodel the premises into one of the finest and most sanitary markets in the buy section. Immediately next to the proposed market, at 1226 Washington street will be the new location of the Lewis Shoe company. Both of these leases will begin on the first of the year.

Announcement was also made by Wachs brothers that the Southern Pacific company has sold the building on the ground that Madame Gadski was pro-German during the World war.

Many of De Bretteville's relatives and intimate friends were people of distinction. He was a cousin of Nansen, the Danish explorer, and of Pierre de Bretteville, who was a close friend of the Marquis de Sade. His grandfather was Marquis de Bretteville, a French Revolution general.

He was an intimate friend of De Bretteville at the time of his birth. Hans Christian Andersen, close friend of the De Bretteville family, wrote one of his best known tales.

De Bretteville retired from active business twenty-five years ago. He is survived by four sons and two daughters. They are: Alexander de Bretteville, principal owner of the Main Iron Works; Walter de Bretteville, capitalis, Napa; and Miss Anna de Bretteville.

Pastor Ends Series With 'Wise Fool'

Dr. John Snape Will Continue Discussions On "Fools of the Bible."

"The Wise Fool" will be Dr. John Snape's sermon topic at the First Baptist church tomorrow night, the being the closing one in his series on "Fools of the Bible." He will consider such questions as: Is he a fool who exalts reason above revelation? Is he a fool who enthrones evolution above creation? Is he a fool who places materialism in the seat of spirituality? Just preceding his sermon, Grace Adams East, the "Silver Cornetist" of Berkeley, will give a number of selections. The Chorus Choir will repeat one of the Thanksgiving anthems. "Thou Crownest the Year" by special request, and Mrs. Hazel Gilbert Mackay, soprano, will sing "Abide With Me" by Shelley.

The church has secured as the morning speaker Mrs. Henry W. Peabody of New York, formerly president of the Women's American Baptist Foreign Mission Society, and now traveling in the interests of Women's Colleges in the Orient. The "Missionary Review of the World" makes of Mrs. Peabody as the most outstanding missionary leader of the world. She is the author of many of the Foreign Mission books being studied by all denominations. She was the only American woman who attended the Imperial International Council at Canterbury, England. She speaks tomorrow morning on "Women's Colleges in the Orient." At the close of the service, the ordinance of Communion will be observed.

Tuesday will be "Auxiliary Day" for all women of the church and congregation, and will be unusual and of interest because of the pageant, "The Birthday of the King," to be given by ladies of Circle No. 5 portraying the earnest search of a humble Pilgrim to find an appropriate gift for the King of Kings. Those participating are Madglenes J. B. Baker, Harry Cary, Julia Chamberlain, E. A. Frifield, H. M. Hall, F. W. Fry, S. M. Gardner, W. W. Green, Geo. Holton, E. B. Johnson, L. M. Kimball, E. E. LaRue, B. M. Lewis, A. J. Mathieu, A. W. Olney, Edna Schmidt, X. B. Starnes, A. C. Warren, R. P. Winkler and Miss Martha Hall. The Christmas Story will be told by Mrs. J. S. Edwards and others. All the Christmas cards and a coin by Miss S. M. Gardner, Mrs. E. A. Frifield will lead the Devotional Circle on "Born Again." Circle No. 4 will have cooked food, candy and fancy articles for sale beginning at 10:00 a. m., and Circle No. 2 will serve a Cafeteria Luncheon to all who will come during the noon hour.

On Wednesday night, in connection with the brief prayer meeting which will be had by the pastor on the subject, "Can Every Christian be a Soul-Winner?" the girls of the American Girls will repeat the play, "The Phil-Bottle," which was present recently in the lecture room. The play begins with a scene in a girls' dormitory at an American college, and ends with the same changes in fact, where one of the girls later becomes a doctor and demonstrates to many parents there the wonderful cures stored up in her miraculous "Phil Bottle." There are twenty-one participants.

Special Music To Be Feature Of Service

BENJAMIN WEBB WHEELER of the University of California will deliver an address at the Park Congressional Church tomorrow evening on the topic: "The Historical Background of Christianity."

At the morning service of the church Rev. G. A. Werner, the pastor, will speak on "Power of the Gospel." Special music is to be featured at both services.

ADVENT SEASON SERVICES WILL OPEN TOMORROW

The Advent season will be opened at St. Francis de Sales Catholic church tomorrow and the ceremonies for the preparation for Christmas will begin. At 10 o'clock mass the congregational singing of the Advent hymns by the children will be featured. Beethoven's Mass in C will be rendered at 11 o'clock with Miss Eleanor Crofts, soprano; Jas. Rose, tenor; Mrs. Annabelle Jones Rose, contralto, and Mr. Fred Anderson, baritone. The organist will be "Veni Creator," a capella. At 12:15 o'clock mass Fred Anderson will sing "Out the Depths" for an offertory number and the benedictus will be "What Jesus Really Taught." He believes that the difficulties in the way of the solution of that problem are due to the character of the manuscripts, stating that there are two versions of the Story of the Mount and the Lord's Prayer, and the many contradictions and discrepancies to be found in the gospels. ## Progress of Year to Be Discussed

Rev. Clarence Reed to Give Address on "Greatest Man"

Rev. Clarence Reed has made it a custom during the three years that he has been the minister of the First Unitarian church in Oakland, to discuss during December the contribution of the current year to the progress of civilization. He will speak tomorrow morning on "The Greatest Man of the Year—W. H. Hudson." In speaking of W. H. Hudson he said: Although W. H. Hudson was one of the greatest interpreters of nature, being to South America and England what John Burroughs was to America before his death, Rev. Reed's text will be the tribute of John Galsworthy to W. H. Hudson. "A very great writer; and—to my thinking—the most valuable our age possesses."

The address that Rev. Reed is giving Sunday evenings in Wente Hall of the church on what is known about Jesus from the standpoint of modern historical research and psychology, have aroused much discussion both within and without the church." His subject tomorrow evening will be "What Jesus Really Taught." He believes that the difficulties in the way of the solution of that problem are due to the character of the manuscripts, stating that there are two versions of the Story of the Mount and the Lord's Prayer, and the many contradictions and discrepancies to be found in the gospels.

100 Per Cent Girl Subject For Sermon

Rev. Dr. Silsley Will Continue Series On Home Life in Bay District.

Welsh Church Women to Hold Annual Bazaar

The women of the Welsh Presbyterian church will present their annual bazaar and dinner in the Jenny Lind Hall on Thursday afternoon and evening. A dinner will be served from 5:30 to 7:30 p. m., and a concert is to follow.

"The Best Girl in the World or What Is A 100 Per Cent Girl?" is the subject of Dr. Frank M. Silsley's evening sermon at the First Presbyterian church tomorrow. This continues the series on "Home Life in the Bay District." In the discussion of this sermon, Dr. Silsley will consider the following questions: Who is the best girl in Oakland? Is the best girl training herself for an independent calling? Is she tasty in dress and accomplished in manners? Does she eat the lettuce from her salad and use the right fork? A dinner will be served from 5:30 to 7:30 p. m., and a concert is to follow.

Low much more capable in the modern beauty than was the ancient Cleopatra or Delilah. She usually takes honor at school and in the educational, business and political world she is doing more than her part. The most vital reason for her popularity is her spirit in America today is being generated in the minds of our girls.

Speaking of this sermon, Dr. Silsley says: "One of the most amazing revelations of today is the modern girl. Her capacity is demonstrated in a thousand ways. She can turn her hand to anything, position or help him? Is she a 'cold dame' or does she marry for love? What about her code of honor?"

The Temple choir of fifty voices will give a musical program. At the sacred concert given by Walter B. Kennedy, Ernest H. McCandlish will sing a tenor solo from "The Daughter of Jairus."

At the morning service 60 new members will be received into the church. Dr. Silsley has for his subject in the morning, "Shall We Bash the Cross?"

JAMES R. MANN.

James R. Mann was the ablest and most useful member of the House of Representatives. When the news of his death reached all parts of the country yesterday it was not generally known, outside of Washington, he was seriously ill. It was only a few days ago he was taking part in the work of the special session of Congress. Shortly before his death he announced he would quit the sickbed to cast his vote if it were needed in the subsidy fight.

The interest and knowledge displayed by the Illinois Congressman in every bill before the House was no less than remarkable. He was known in Washington as possessing an almost uncanny ability to place his finger on the weak spots in proposed legislation. He could discover a "joker" before others even suspected its presence.

The keen perceptive powers of Mann made him a power in the House. Members fell into the habit of bringing bills to him before they were presented on the floor. There is no telling how many measures were thus killed without even seeing light, or how many amendments were suggested.

Representative Mann served for twenty-five years. As minority floor leader from the Sixty-Second to Sixty-Fifth Congress he was in line for choice as speaker. It is probable his ability to pick out the flaws in legislation and his relentless assaults on the "pet" measures of many members of the House, cost him that honor.

It is almost impossible to enumerate the large number of worthy pieces of legislation for which Mr. Mann was responsible. He will be remembered for years to come for the leading part he played in the pure food campaign. During those debates he moved exhibits into Congress, proved fraud and adulteration were widespread and secured the passage of the present laws. He was the author of the Mann Act directed against white slavery.

For all of his ability to attack bitterly legislation in which he saw flaws, Mr. Mann was kindly and companionable. He was always ready to help the new member with the benefits of his advice or experience.

James R. Mann will be remembered for the legislation he fathered and for that which, directly or indirectly, he was able to kill. Thousands of bills not to the best interests of the people have been withheld because they did not have his approval. It will be many years before anyone exactly fills the position he held in Congress.

THE CHRISTMAS SEALS.

Fifteen years ago when the Christmas seal idea was conceived by Miss Emily P. Bissell in Delaware the sum of $3000 was contributed by those who numbered the little stickers. That was the beginning of the fund which is being used in an educational campaign for the prevention and cure of tuberculosis, a campaign which is now so generally recognized and so widely supported that more than a billion stamps are now on sale.

There is no one now who may not be a working partner in this labor for health and happiness. All he needs do is buy or sell the little stickers and thus help spread information in the ways of combating the disease.

The Christmas seals have raised over twenty million dollars which has been spent: for increasing the number of hospitals and sanatoria for the treatment of tuberculosis from 100 (16 years ago) to nearly 700 with approximately 60,000 beds; for establishing over 550 clinics and dispensaries; in instructing at least 3500 special tuberculosis nurses who instruct in the homes; toward research work; for statistical study; for publicity in distributing during the past 16 years approximately 1,000,000 pieces of printed matter for the modern health crusade which has enrolled nearly 8,000,000 school children who are leading daily health habits; toward securing over 3000 open-air schools, summer camps and preventoria.

The death rate from tuberculosis in the United States Registration Area has been cut from over 200 per 100,000 in 1900 to about 100 per 100,000 in 1921. Since 1904, the year in which an educational campaign was started by the National Tuberculosis Association, the death rate has been cut in half. Had the 1904 death rate prevailed the country would have lost 80,000 more persons in 1921. Lives have been saved in Oakland and the Eastbay.

These are some of the statistics which speak for the little Christmas seals. There are others which show tuberculosis is curable; that the rules of the cure, if obeyed, will prevent the disease. The story of the Christmas seal and the work it is doing is one in which the whole country is concerned. In this campaign, in which Oakland and the rest of the country are asked to participate until Christmas, the rich and the poor, the average man, accept an opportunity for real service.

MRS. ISAAC L. REQUA.

The list of good acts performed by Mrs. Isaac Lawrence Requa, pioneer of Oakland and of California, can never be computed. It was her habit and pleasure to lend a helping hand here and there, to encourage youth at the outset of a career and to smooth the path of the aged. In many homes in the Eastbay today are men and women whose lives have been shaped toward happiness and success because of her interest and her generosity.

Mrs. Requa came to California before the days of '49. She was one of those who made the journey around the Horn to make their home in the new country and her early years were identified with those which wrote so large and colorful a chapter in the history of the West. Out of the hardships of the mining life, out of the vision and the courage of those storied days fortunes and characters were built and moulded. Mrs. Requa was one of the last who knew the California of '49, the Comstock and Virginia City of those early days.

No woman has been closer identified with labor for community good. A home for the aged, a hospital, a home for sick soldiers, the Travelers' Aid, Red Cross and many other agencies knew her either as founder or one of the leading spirits.

Oakland has suffered a loss in her passing.

In scores of homes the memory of her quiet charity is a priceless possession. The best traditions of the pioneer and the highest ideals of citizenship were exemplified in her life.

A GOVERNOR COMPLAINS.

Samuel R. McElvie, Governor of Nebraska, has made a discovery not uncommon with men who hold executive office in politics. He is convinced the remedy for economic ills is not always to be found in legislative enactment and executive dictum, and he has made known his opinion in a letter addressed to the world.

Governor McElvie has signalized the end of his second term of office with a farewell message setting forth the surface indications of returning prosperity to his state, the figures of Nebraska's solid wealth, and some of the thoughts which come to a man about to relinquish office.

"There are some things," says Governor

McElvie, "that government can and ought to do to maintain equality and enforce justice, but it is futile to believe that government can promptly adjust the economic irregularities or restore the wastes and losses incident to the war. There is a growing feeling that the remedy for our economic ills may be found in legislative enactment. Thus the eyes of the people are constantly fixed upon the seats of government, almost to the exclusion of other quarters from which relief may more properly be expected."

Governor McElvie is not the first executive who has become convinced that those who elected him expected too much and did too little in cooperation. His complaint is an old one, but not without its point.

IF EINSTEIN WERE WRONG.

Members of the Crocker eclipse expedition, which went to Australia to test the validity of the Einstein theory, report that the solar photographs were made under apparently perfect conditions. After a few months of measurement and calculation we shall see a star is sometimes crooked; whether its light bends around the sun on the way to earth.

Great theories, even when propounded by the most erudite scientists, are called upon to make good. Centuries after the Copernican theory of the rotation of the earth was accepted as a fact the French scientist Foucault made a practical demonstration of its truth by hanging a bob from the roof of the Pantheon by a wire 200 feet long and letting it swing like a pendulum. The point of the bob, touching a platform covered with fine sand, never made the same trip twice, but deviated each time the same distance to the right—just as it would have deviated to the left if the experiment had been tried in the Southern Hemisphere. The earth did spin as well as move.

Suppose the results of the Australian photographs should prove beyond doubt that Einstein was wrong; that light does not bend in passing through the heavenly meadows and that things mathematical are just as they seem? Would the human race be downcast at the overthrow of a theory which has been described as being as important as Newton's? Alas for popular science, no! The man in the subway would remark that he never took much stock in Einstein, anyway. He would proceed to the consideration of the greater problems of the world. Are overcoats going up on account of the wool tariff? Would Eddie Collins help the Yankees? Is the latest theory of relativity perfectly good when you apply it to the human mind? The little things of life being more, seem immensely bigger than the huge, distant and abstract problems. "Governing the circle is a trifle beside the problem of squaring the circle,"

The LANTERN

COPYRIGHT 1922

A correspondent remarks: "A book reviewer taking a wallop at the Autobiography of Augustus Thomas says that as an autobiography it is great, but as a history of the theater it is tragic. He might have added that as a cook book it is contemptible and as an explanation of the Einstein Theory it is absolutely unintelligible." A dramatic reviewer, speaking of a play in which we are more or less interested, remarked that a certain emotional scene actually had a great deal of comedy in it, apparently in the belief that the comedy lines somehow got there without the knowledge of the author. Some of these reviewers will one day make the discovery that Dante's "Inferno" is not a comic opera. "Where in this law-abiding and peaceful country does Captain Peter Fitzgerald fight all those duels he is forever talking about?" asks A. T. R.

He doesn't fight them in this country at all. He patronizes the Atlantic Ocean. He fights them beyond the three-mile limit, on his Dueling Barge, the Jolly Pete, which flies the flag of the Siamese Navy. The Captain tells us that among the other titles that he might wear if he wished is that of Admiral in the Siamese Navy.

But to return to the Captain's Dueling Barge, the Jolly Pete. When the Captain picks up some pretty little quarrel, no matter what part of the country he is in—no matter what country—he and his seconds and his opponent and his seconds entrain at once for the seaport nearest the place where the Jolly Pete happens to be. Arrived at the barge, all parties become legally citizens of Siam, the laws of Siam, the Captain informs us, permitting dueling, and being so framed as to admit aliens to citizenship upon application, when endorsed by an Admiral of the Navy. The duel is therefore fought upon Siamese soil.

The Captain is a chivalrous soul. He always insists that his opponent and seconds shall be his guests for some days before the duel, so that his opponent may practice and not be hampered, in the use of sword or pistol, by the rolling of the barge.

The barge is being lengthened just now. This step has had to be taken as the result of a most lamentable episode—"A gentleman . . . at least, I thought him to be a gentleman at the time . . . forced a quarrel upon me, sir," said the Captain, "by speaking with disrespect of the Plantagenet family.

"I have always considered the Plantagenet one of the best families that ever reigned in England. The Plantagenets and the Fitzurs, sir, came originally from the same part of Normandy—lands joined and the Plantagenet boys, sir, were always 'Dick' and 'Will' and 'Harry' to the Fitzgeralds—So you can understand that it was not only my duty but my pleasure to resent this person's slur upon the Plantagenet family. I knocked him down, and I would have kicked his jugular vein with my sword, but it happened that just at that time the stupid authorities had taken my sword from me. . . . Some expressions, which he might be a man of mettle, and so I decided to grant him the honor of a duel.

"Arriving at my Dueling Barge, and all parties legally naturalized as citizens of Siam, I looked forward to a delightful little affair, terminating as usual—but, would you believe it, sir, the man's courage deserted him at the last moment and he and his seconds took refuge behind a technicality to escape a duel. The seconds had arranged that we should exchange shots at twenty paces, and we found that eighteen paces was all the space we could get on the deck of my barge—I prefer to fight at fifteen paces, sir, especially since my eyesight is not so good as it once was.

"We refused to modify the agreement so as to make the duel possible at eighteen paces, and according to the strict technicalities that govern the duello, he had a right to refuse. But a gentleman would have waived the point and fought me at eighteen paces.

"As soon as I perceived that he was not a gentleman," continued the Captain, "I ceased to treat the fellow with the consideration due a gentleman."

"What did you do?" we asked.

"I took him by the scruff of the neck," said the Captain, "and prodded him to the ruff of the little vessel. 'Curse you,' I said, 'you'll slander the Plantagenets, will you? And with that I cutted him, sir, and kicked him overboard."

The Captain paused. "Well,

we said, 'go on with the story.'

"There is no more of the story," said the Captain, placidly. "But, good heavens!" said we, "what became of the fellow?"

"Really, sir," said the Captain, "he did not look to see?" "Ten or fifteen nautical miles, I should say," replied the Captain. "But how could he swim?" he asked.

"He could, sir," said the Captain.

NET CLOSES ON 'BAD MAN' AS SLAYER

Oakland "Tough" Suspected of Killing Policeman Will Be Arrested in San Francisco Today, Say Police

That the negro who shot and killed Policeman John F. McCarthy on Thanksgiving Day is a well known West Oakland "bad man," and that he is at present hiding in San Francisco with a badly battered face and a bullet wound in the arm, was the belief expressed today by members of the police department, who predicted that his arrest will occur before to-morrow morning.

Although the police refused to reveal the name of the suspected murderer, they asserted today that he has been identified as a notorious "tough" who was creating a disturbance in the Carlyle Club, a negro organization at Atlantic and Willow streets, a few hours before the shooting.

The shooting itself, they declare, took place during a scuffle between the negro and Policeman McCarthy, in which the officer is believed to have beaten the other in the face with the butt of his revolver, and in which an accidental shot pierced the negro's left arm.

These facts, they say, are established by the testimony of two colored women, Mrs. Ruth E. Brown, who heard the negro cry out, "Don't beat me that way!" just before the three fatal shots were fired, and Mrs. Nina Bradley, who saw a negro with his face badly cut and blood flowing from his arm, proceeding immediately after the shooting along the bloody trail that the policeman's slayer is known to have followed after the crime.

Arrest of the man is certain, the police said today, and will take place late today or during the night. Inspectors Tom Wood and Tom Gallaghers have been detailed by Acting Captain of Inspectors Richard McSorley to work on the case.

The police would not disclose today the source of their information that the man is now hiding in San Francisco.

McCarthy's funeral will be held Monday under the auspices of the police department.

Auto Holdup Is Part of High Frat Initiation

Red lanterns waved and a file of youths blocked the further progress of R. W. Risbie, a salesman, residing at the St. Mark Hotel last night as he was walking alone to Oakland from Alameda by way of the Webster street bridge. He halted at the danger signal.

"What's the matter here?" he questioned. "We're high school boys being initiated into a fraternity and we wanted a dime."

Risbie gave out the dime and stepped on the gas and hastened to police headquarters to report the occurrence. When police officers arrived on the scene the initiation had evidently been concluded. The only signs left to tell the tale were the tire marks of three machines which Risbie said he had seen parked at the Oakland end of the bridge.

"The machines," he said contained the masters of the ceremonies and the initiators, but they remained well hidden in the darkness of their machines."

"I believe it to be a very dangerous practice, and therefore reported the occurrence to the police. Had I been armed I might have plugged one of them," he said.

REALTY LICENSE

LAW IS UPHELD

The legality of the California real estate license law is believed by local real estate men to be established as the result of a decision of the United States Supreme Court in upholding the constitutionality of similar laws on the statute books of Tennessee.

Every realty license law in fourteen states, including California, which was the first state in the Union to adopt such a law, is favorably affected by the Supreme Court decision, which was handed down by Justice McKenna.

Oakland real estate men declared that the decision will successfully block any attempt to nullify the California law. The ruling received a hearty endorsement from the state bar.

Both the Tennessee law and that of California have been attacked on the ground that they did not grant the real estate dealer due process of law and were therefore in violation of the constitution. The Tennessee law has been held constitutional by the United States Supreme Court, and it is believed this places the California law on

MUSICIAN FACES

TERM IN PRISON

Moritz Lheyne, concert pianist, has been given the choice of paying $750 alimony to his divorced wife, Mrs. Estelle Gray Lheyne of Alameda, or going to jail next Tuesday. When the case against Lheyne was called in the San Francisco court yesterday Lheyne pleaded for a reduction in the monthly alimony of $100. He argued that the musical profession was being so deeply injured by jazz that he was unable to pay the larger sum. Judge E. P. Morgan rejected the petition.

The Lheyne, who have won a national reputation on the concert platform, were divorced last April, the wife being awarded $100 a month alimony. Mrs. Lheyne told Judge Morgan yesterday that her former husband was $750 in arrears. The couple have one child.

Mrs. Lheyne early next year leaves for New York, where she will again take up her concert work. She is a violinist.

Weddings, Engagements At College Refute Claim of Robert B. Coons That Romance Rare On Campus

BERKELEY, Dec. 2.—The University of California is not a matrimonial bureau, all rumors to the contrary, asserts Robert B. Coons, editor of the Daily Californian, student paper.

"Look up my record and see whether it is or not," retorts no less a personage than Dan Cupid himself.

"If engagements were as few in a country town of the same size as at the university, bachelors and spinsters would reign supreme," thus Coons.

But Coons did not reckon fully with the little love god, or with campus statisticians. To disprove the statements of the college editor that Cupid is not enrolled for a master's degree, these same statisticians have compiled an impressive list of weddings and engagements which they flaunt in the face of Coons. And the list, they declare, is only partial.

Here are some of the recent marriages of interest in college circles:

Elmer Wood, member of Delta Delta Delta sorority, and John M. McDonald.

Gertrude Schleck, Alpha Omicron Pi sorority, and A. L. Smith.

Carolyn Steel, Delta Delta Delta sorority, and William D. Ramage.

Dorothy Deardorff, Gamma Phi Beta, and Phi Beta Kappa, and E. D. Boal of San Diego.

Alma Lauenstein, Alpha Gamma Delta, and L. A. Wales.

Elizabeth Hopkins, Norroena Club, French Club Society, and Louis Allard, Princeton.

And then here's an imposing list of engagements to add to the activities of Dan Cupid, including both men and women students as "victims."

Claire Lowe, senior student, member of Delta Gamma sorority, and Robert Houston, Kappa Sigma fraternity, now engaged in the practice of law.

Katherine Hendrie, senior at Miss Head's, and James Wilcox Drake, university senior, and member of prominent Los Angeles family.

Madeline Coons, graduate of 1922 class and member of Chi Omega sorority, and Marshall Evans, U. C. graduate and member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity.

Nita Robertson, senior member of Alpha Chi Omega sorority, and Louis Frederick Le Hane, senior, athlete and Zeta Psi member.

Gertrude Seaver, junior and woman's Blue and Gold editor, and Carl Botschelder, former collegian and member of Theta Delta Chi fraternity.

Betty Barrows, junior, daughter of President David P. Barrows, and member of Alpha Phi sorority, and Frank Adams, junior and Sigma Phi fraternity member.

Dorothy Dukes, member of '22 class and Pi Beta Phi, and Charles Stanley Dillman, former U. C. man and member of Delta Tau Delta.

Arlynn Payson, graduate of the Berkeley family, and Ernest Miltiken, graduate with class of 1919 and member of Kappa Alpha fraternity.

Loren Kinney, former student and member of Alpha Omicron Pi sorority, and Charles Francis Honeylew, U. C. graduate and Alpha Phi member.

Rachel Riggs, senior, Alpha Gamma Delta, and Talbot Grawne, member of '22 class and Tau Kappa Epsilon.

Faith Cushman, '21, and Delta Delta Delta, and W. N. Keeler, member of same class and Sigma Chi.

Dealers Quit Cutting Prices
When Opponents Take

Eastbay milk dealers today ceased cutting milk prices in San Francisco, as a result of the truce entered into two weeks ago, whereby the Associated Milk Producers of San Francisco ceased cutting prices in the Eastbay.

Further action consisted in the disbanding of the Pleasanton Ranch company which they established in San Francisco during the recent milk war.

"All cards are to be laid on the table" by the Eastbay Milk Producers' Association when they meet in conference next Monday with representatives of the housewives' leagues of the Eastbay, to discuss the milk situation, officials of the organization declared today.

The conference has been asked by Mrs. H. J. Platis, president of the Oakland Housewives' League, as part of an investigation which her organization and those in Alameda and Berkeley are conducting into the causes of the rise in the price of milk, following the conclusion of the milk war, from 10 cents a quart to 13. The meeting will be held in the association's headquarters in the Bacon building Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

STANFORD-PITT CONTEST ASSUMES PROPORTIONS OF BIG GAME

TOMMY SIMPSON COMPLETES HIS CARD FOR NEXT WEDNESDAY EVENING'S BOXING SHOW

PITT PANTHERS WILL BE REAL ATTRACTION AGAINST CARDINALS

Greater Interest Will Attach to Game at Stanford Stadium Than in South; Saints Meet Gonzaga Next.

By DOUG. MONTELL

With Pittsburgh a winner over Penn State the Stanford-Pittsburgh game, set for the Stanford stadium December 30, assumes the proportions of the best East vs. West match of the year. Penn State, defeated by Pennsylvania, the Navy and Pittsburgh, will be a party to the entertainment on the gridiron in southern California on New Year's Day but the western opponent is yet to be named. Had either Oregon or Washington won a clean cut decision Thanksgiving Day one might have been able to hazard a guess as to the probable western entry in the New Year's derby at Pasadena, but with the choice hinging on a mail vote of the members of the Coast Conference December 9, there is no guessing whether U. S. C., Washington or Oregon will be selected.

In the meantime Stanford can prepare to entertain the bulk of the crowd who hunger for football at the close of December. Pittsburgh must be credited with remarkable powers of "coming back" and Glenn Warner and his Blue and Gold tribe will be met with considerable reception upon their advent into our midst. It is indeed a peculiar coincidence that brings about a meeting of the Cardinal with a second Blue and Gold eleven in the same season, for these are the colors of the Pitt Panthers.

Pitt's Record Is Among the Best.

... and Pitt's season ends in a circle. Defeated by Lafayette and West Virginia, the Panthers have an opportunity to claim that they are as well off as when they started. Lafayette's unexpected defeat at the hands of W. & J. left the Presidents supreme for a short period, but their fall from grace at the hands of Pitt was closely followed by two more by Detroit and West Virginia. Pitt is unable to make up for their 9 to 6 defeat at the hands of West Virginia, for the Mountaineers went undefeated, a 12-12 tie with Washington and Lee being the only one to a clear state.

However, the Panthers were greatly handicapped throughout the season with Captain Holloman on the bench, injuries and in the latter part minus the services of Colonna, their plumbing fullback. These stars will be back in shape in time for the Stanford game.

The only remaining attraction on the local football bill of fare between now and the Stanford-Pitt game is the St. Mary's football clash, scheduled for Recreation Park in San Francisco on Saturday, December 2.

There is a slight possibility of a link indicated by word from St. Mary's this morning that Gonzaga, agreeing to a return game in the Northwest next season, had thus far failed to forward the contract for the same and that the local college authorities did not see their way clear to standing the expenses of bringing the northern institution here unless such contract was forthcoming.

A telegram to that effect was sent to the Gonzaga authorities and an immediate answer is expected which should clear up the situation.

Gonzaga, a small college with a "kick." While the record of Coach Dorfman's team is not clear, the victory over Idaho, Montana, L. Montana State and Wyoming were sufficiently impressive to allow one to believe them capable of putting forth a keen contest with the Saints.

Houston Stockton, who starred with St. Mary's last year, is playing halfback for the Gonzaga team and has been a bright light with the Northern team all season.

The record of the Gonzaga team, their seven games to date, is:

Gonzaga ... 34; Paget ... 0
Gonzaga ... 7; W. S. C. ... 10
Gonzaga ... 20; Minnesota ... 45
Gonzaga ... 37; Montana ... U. 6
Gonzaga ... 47; Montana State ... 0
Gonzaga ... 55; Wyoming U. ... 0
Gonzaga ... 14; Idaho ... 7

TRI-LINE LEAGUE TEAMS REACH HALF WAY MARK TOMORROW

CRYSTALS AND COAST TIRES ARE TO MEET IN BIG BALL GAME OF DAY

Washers Must Win or Have Company on Top Rung of Coast Division; Other Good Games Are on the Day's Menu.

By EDDIE MURPHY.

The half-way mark in the races for the pennants in the Oakland TRIBUNE Mid-winter League will be reached tomorrow and indications are that there will be plenty of excitement all over the county. The big mixup of the day is scheduled at Fifty-fifth avenue and East Fourteenth street where the Crystal Laundry and Coast Tire teams will tangle. The "Washers" are leading the race for the Coast Division championship of the Class A League, and a win for them would place them well in the lead; otherwise the "Tire Boys" will catch up with them. Manager Bob Carter's Washers have walked over most of the clubs in the Coast Division, but this will be the first meeting with the Coast Tire aggregation. The Tire Company team is considered the one that the "Washers" must beat for the championship of the Coast Division, so there should be a lot of fun out at the General Electric field. Thiess or Murchie for the "Washers," and Van Houtte or Mike Morrow for the "Coast Tires" will be the pitchers.

Three other games are on the Coast schedule with the next big attraction at Lockwood school, just about six blocks from the scene of the Crystal-Coast Tie game. The Fruitvale Eagles will leave their home lot at Elmhurst to play the Zenith Mill and Lumber nine. The Lee Bertillon Hatters, who are traveling all six, will entertain the Walton N. Moore team at Cheyenne park, while at High and East Tenth streets the Del Monte Packers No. 10 will tangle with the Del Monte Packers No. 11 to see which company has the best baseball team and also to see who has the right to the Coast division cellar.

Shattucks Must Hustle To Keep Out in Front.

The Shattuck Avenue Merchants of Berkeley continue to lead the race for the championship of the National Division, but they are finding plenty of opposition from the Pleasanton Merchants, Calatone Water, Maxwell Hardware and Coney Drug teams. Tomorrow afternoon at San Pablo park in Berkeley, the Shattucks will meet the Calatone Waters. The Shattucks have not lost a game but the Calatones are out of a game and a half in the rear of them. The Pleasanton Merchants will travel to Richmond and play the First Trust Bankers of that city. If the Pleasanton boys can win, and the Calatones defeat the Shattucks, they will be tied with the latter team for first place. Heine Lay will pitch for Pleasanton's "Cle" Hovey for the Shattucks and Mc Clung for the Calatones will be the pitchers at San Pablo park.

The Coney Drug team is expecting to have easy picking with the Thomas E. Wilsons of Richmond when they meet at Alberger field. Fortin and Soto for Pablo. But the Coney may be the Wilsons played their best ball of the season last Sunday and were just nosed out by the Calatones. Manager Dolan did not learn until last Sunday the positions in which his players belonged. Now that he has settled on a real lineup, he promises trouble on all the boys.

At the Oakland Coast League park, the Maxwell Hardware will meet the Florio-Figoni Hardware nine at 2:15 o'clock. All games in the National Division will start at the same thing. The Maxwells are the strongest team club in their division, but they must win today in order to keep out of the second division. Clark for the Maxwells and Billy Burke for Florio-Figoni Hardware will be the pitchers.

American Division Has Its Usual Attractions.

As usual the American Division has its big attractions, and there are chances for changes in the positions on the percentage ladder. The Del Monte Cafe team, which took the lead in Sunday, will meet the Oakland Athletics No. 50 at Cheyenne Park on Foothill Boulevard at 2:15 o'clock. The Natives have not been winning as expected, but Manager "Dutch" Holstrom has challenged Otto Egenberger to have the leader of the losing team roll a peanut from Twelfth and Broadway to Lake Merritt. Otto accepted, and as both he and Holstrom are of the roly-poly type, there should be a lot of fun when they roll the double-jointed thing.

One of the biggest attractions of the day is at the San Leandro stadium where the McLeaners, McLeaners. The fans of both towns have been waiting for a long time for this meeting and they will be out in full force. Managers Sullivan and Edstrom of the Merchants will decide tonight on Vinci or Feely to do the pitching. McFadden looks like the best bet for the Tractors. The game starts at 2:15 o'clock.

The Oakland Coast League Park will be the scene of the first tangle of the season between the Belmont Motors and the Seagull Company. The Durants took their first leading last Sunday and lost the lead to the American division. The Magnavox team has come along strong in the last few games, defeating two of the leading clubs, and they will make the Motor Boys go at top speed tomorrow. "Dutch" Kaiser is slated to heave for the Magnavox, while "Dum Dum" Land or "Lefty" Humphries will do the honors for the Durants. The game will start at 12 o'clock sharp.

Devine's All-Stars Trim Alameda Elks

Fans swelled the fund for the widow of the late Pat Kilhulin to nearly $300 when the Alameda Elks played the All-Stars, composed of minor-league players, at Lincoln park, Alameda.

Despite the fact that it was a double header, a fairly large crowd turned out and contributed $80.49 to the fund.

Joe Devine's All-Stars had little trouble in trimming the Elks 9 to 3. The Elks bunched their hits against "Lefty" Didier but were unable to hit Jones safely for more than two bingles.

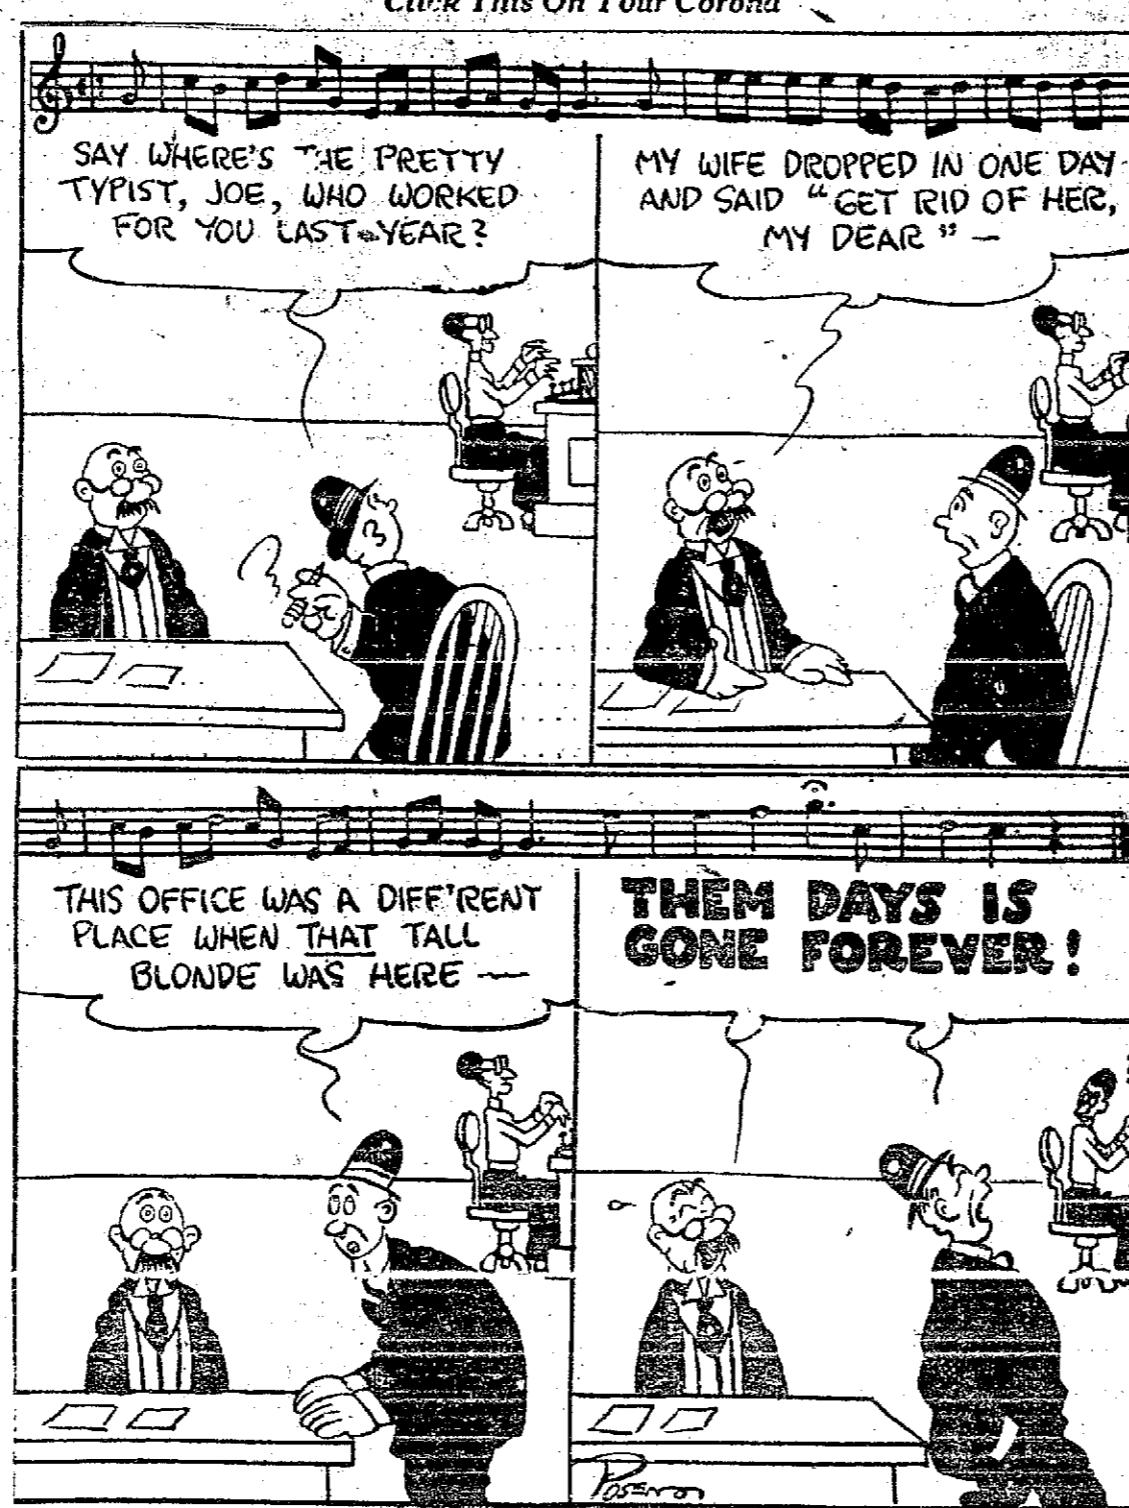

Jimmy Welsh of Calgary, with the Del Monte Cafe nine, socked out one for the circuit on Shuttlesworth's eighth. While Billy Lane, Jimmy Moore and "Lefty" Jones

John McGraw Has Deal On, Latest Word

New York National League Manager Seeks to Improve Giants' Batteries.

By DAVID J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor.

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—(United Press)—Ring champions had a tough year in 1922 and the road down through the coming year looks no less bumpy for the present title holders.

Johnny Buff headed the losers of 1922 by dropping both the lightweight and bantamweight titles; Jack Britton, after a long reign as welterweight champion was dethroned, and Gene Conroy took the light heavyweight crown, and Georges Carpentier ended his regime as European heavyweight titleholder.

Among the present champions only Pancho Villa and Jack Dempsey seem to be out of dire danger of dropping into the list of ex-champions in the next year.

Most of the critics agree that Villa, the little American lightweight champion, is the best boy at his weight in the world. It is generally believed that he will annex the world's title if he succeeds in coaxing Jimmy Wile, the little Welshman, out of the ring.

Jimmy Wile, however, is not the only boxer who may be the next to outgrow the ring. Jim Tierney will be the next to that, he will outgrow the flyweight class but even at that his chances to annex the bantamweight championship in time from Joe Lynch are very good.

Dempsey's only great threat comes from Harry Wills or Tommy Gibbons. Beyond all doubt, the heavyweight champion will meet one or both of them before another year rolls around.

There is no denying that Wills is a very formidable opponent for Dempsey but there will be a long day before he can be the next to outgrow the ring.

Gibbons ought to make a good opponent for Dempsey. The difference of weight is not a big factor. His chances against Dempsey are almost as good as those of Wills. Dempsey has had trouble with a small, fast opponent.

By following the same tactics that have had them in for several years with the ring works, Johnny Wilson and Johnny Kilbane may succeed in holding their titles indefinitely, as long as they refuse to meet any opponents with the exception of the U. S. mint for their titles. Kilbane is frank in admitting that if he separates from his title he wants a huge pile for doing it, but Wilson will not give his rivals a chance under any circumstances.

In as far as Wilson and the mid-lightweight class is concerned, the attitude of the champion is a shame. He is making no money out of the title and yet he hangs on to it with the attitude of the dog in the manger.

It is no secret that McGraw is not satisfied with his batteries. Frank Snyder will hang on as first-string catcher, barring the unfortunate.

Financially, the coming season is considered an important one to the Giants. The Yankees are to throw open their new stadium, seating 80,000. The competition for New York's favor is going to be keener than ever and the idea is general that the team that produces the winner will be the biggest business at the box office.

It is no secret that McGraw is not satisfied with his batteries. Frank Snyder will hang on as first-string catcher, barring the unfortunate.

CHEAP LOAFERS

HAVANA, Cuba, Dec. 2.—Gents are successfully supplementing the futile attempts of the law to eliminate the more undesirable features of that ancient Latin institution—the corner cafe loafers. Taking their cue from the high efficiency cigar stores and quick lunch counters of the United States, the Cuban loafers are paying top prices for choice locations have rid themselves of the droves of "onlookers" and drive away clients.

They have removed the convenient tables and chairs enlarging their bars and counters where coffee and other refreshments are served, and adopted other methods to assure quick

The whole tribe of loafers finds it hard to pass a few hours in a cafe where the bar is situated continually with a wet cloth to the detriment of carelessly tucked elbows and white shoes suffer from a

Wines of Austrian Emperor on Sale

VIENNA, Dec. 2.—Rare wines to the value of 25,000,000 crowns or about $350,000 at the present rate of exchange still lie in the cellars of the imperial palace. One bottle of red wine known as "Achauer of Empress Elizabeth" is grown on vines brought by her from Greece. Is being sold at $900 000 crowns the bottle or approximately $12.

There is said to be the largest stock of original Chartreuse, both green and white in the world stored in these cellars, and it is to be sold abroad for standard money only.

German Paper Is Back in Shanghai

SHANGHAI, Nov. 15.—The Deutsche China Nachrichten (German China News), which recently made its appearance in Shanghai, is said to be the first German newspaper to be published in China since the War of 1914. The publication is in magazine form, printed in German, Chinese and English.

Initial issue of the paper announces that an outstanding aim of the publication will be to promote general increased German trade and the upbuilding of German industries while fostering good will toward Germans and Germany. Wolfgang Richter is owner and editor and Sze-Fang is Chinese editor.

VALENTINO PAY $1250 A WEEK

COURT IS TOLD

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—Rodolph Valentino, moving picture star, accompanied by his wife, appeared yesterday in the appellate division of the supreme court to appeal from an injunction which restrains him acting for anyone save the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation.

"You're a nob," said Louis Marshall attorney for the corporation, "this man may enjoy a larger income under his contract than nine supreme court justices."

"Yes, yes," Justice John Proctor Clarke interrupted, "but you needn't rub that in."

Attorney Marshall contended that Valentino is to receive under his contract a total of $125,000 as salary for three years. His present salary the corporation's counsel stated, is $1250 a week.

Valentino's own attorney described him as a "young man who was unable to speak English when he arrived here eight months prior to making the present contract." The attorney added that the actor was "wholly unfamiliar with the salaries paid to moving picture stars and with business affairs."

Counsel for the corporation alleged Valentino is a "college graduate, man of intelligence, and familiar with contracts," who should have known the contents of the contract he signed.

Justice John Proctor Clarke interrupted, "but you needn't rub that in."

Texas Has Highest Bridge in U. S.

DEL RIO, Tex., Dec. 2.—The highest bridge in the United States is located 10 miles west of Del Rio on the El Paso division of the Galveston, Harrisburg and San Antonio railroad. It crosses the Pecos river.

This bridge, which was turned over to the railroad company in March, 1892, and is exceeded in height at that time by only two other bridges in the world, is in Bolivia, South America, and one in Japan. Since then, two other bridges have been constructed in Africa that surpass the Pecos bridge, making it at the present time the fourth highest in the world.

The bridge is 326 feet above the low water level, originally was 2160 feet long and weighed 2249 tons.

GIVEN TO SOLVE QUIST MYSTERY

Opportunity Afforded For Those Interested to See Sherlock Holmes.

In order to permit readers of "The Quist Mystery" to see John Barrimore in "Sherlock Holmes" at the T and D theater beginning tomorrow (Saturday) night and to learn how Sherlock Holmes would have disposed of "Who Knew Quist?" the closing date of the Quist Prize Contest has been extended to December 10.

Devises amateur scientific and professional may submit any number of clues. The fact that a person already has entered a solution will not prevent that one from writing another. An 18-word letter telling another 18-word letter tells nothing. The Quist Prize Contest has been extended to December 10.

Prizes offered are $50, first $15, second $10, third $5 and 50 other prizes consisting of pairs of glasses to the T and D. Answers should be addressed to Quist Prize Contest, The Tribune.

"I have been reading the Quist murder story and am enjoying it very much. I understand there are prizes to be given to those who guess who the Quist. My guess is that old Mrs. Snoop is Quist, as well as the butler." This is the answer of Mrs. H. E. Alsop, 2467 Kinsland avenue.

Mrs. A. P. Stewart of El Cerrito charges that Dr. Ottoman, I. P. Stewart, is the Quist.

Wife RELIEVED GUITY

Mrs. G. Thompson, 411 1/2 Broadway, Howard, believes Mrs. Quist killed her husband with the aid of Carrie Snoop, who is working with a master traitor.

Area Kinsland, 515, Thompson street declares that Ottoman has Mrs. Quist in his power and that the wife knows who killed Quist.

"Ottoman is the man I have been looking for," says Thomas J. McNeely, 2303 1/2 16th street.

The murder was the consummation of a careful, worked out scheme of Miss Amick, the actress, and her husband the criminal, to obtain possession of a valuable diamond. "Quist" is one of which she had managed to acquire knowledge or secret control," says Mrs. H. J. Hart, 650 Alleen street.

Mrs. E. F. Waller, 211 Hillside avenue Piedmont says "Napoleon I was the instigator of the Quist murder, planned out of revenge for financial losses in his family. Mrs. Snoop was his mother and decoy, Miss Amick his wife and decoy also. He made use of all important persons to act upon his underworld tools."

Mrs. O. H. Hinkel of 1110 Alameda street, Berkeley, says that Miss Amick is one of the conspirators and that she is the other crook of whom Mrs. Snoop is another Mrs. C. an ignorant credulous tool.

C. Fountaine of 794 Neilson avenue, Berkeley, says that Quist was killed because he had placed between the leaves of a book by Mrs. Snoop a concert of Dr. Ottoman and went to Mrs. Quist with the request that she place it on Quist's desk. Polson was conveyer to restoration and through his help put the book in Mrs. Quist's hands. "He turned the book over to me to ascertain the title and leaves of a book."

CHINA'S TARIFF DUTIES INCREASED

SHANGHAI, Nov. 16.—China's new tariff schedule drafted by an international commission that was in session in Shanghai for six months and designed to fix an effective five per cent advalorem tariff will go into effect December 1 with the provision that all goods consigned to China, shipped and en route before December 1, shall be permitted to enter the country under the old tariff schedule.

It is estimated that under the new fixed tariff schedule China's revenues will be increased by between ten and twelve million dollars, Mexican, a year.

The revision of China's tariff is in accordance with the program laid down at the Washington disarmament conference. Following the tariff commission conference that was held in Shanghai another commission is to sit, probably early next year, at Peking, with the purpose of increasing the tariff by one or two and one-half per cent.

Eventually, according to the program a final five per cent increase of the country's tariff is to be brought about, the term applied to inter-provincial duties—in effect, the old tariff schedule, even if no considerable increase in the country's foreign trade develop.

The new increase, according to estimates, will considerably more than double revenues over the annual total returned under the old schedule, even if no considerable increase in the country's foreign trade develop.

British Coal Output Heavily Decreases

LONDON, Dec. 2.—Coal production in England has dropped 124,000 tons, or about 40 per cent since 1914. The miners and the coal miners' unions declare that the increase in the production is not due to the lack of supply, but to the fact that the mine owners are closing down entirely or partially as means of forcing the unions to make concessions in the matter of wages and hours.

Japanese Theaters Adopt Safety Rules

TOKYO, Dec. 2.—New York safety regulations are to be adopted in Japanese theaters and picture halls. Under the new regulations, no moving picture hall will be built in Tokyo that does not provide ample exit accommodations, wide, straight stairways, aisles broad and unumbered, exit doors opening outward to prevent possible jams and with projection boxes absolutely fireproof.

SCHWAB VOICES CONFIDENCE IN BAY DISTRICTSWill Back Any Suggestion By Joseph Tynan, Says
Steel Magnate.After re-iterated expressions of faith in the upbuilding of the bay district, Charles M. Schwab, steel magnate and chairman of the board of directors of the Bethlehem Steel corporation left for Los Angeles en route to New York, where he expects to arrive in two weeks.At a special luncheon in the Family club yesterday, Schwab made a declaration of faith in the cities of the bay region and proposed great things for the future."We have confidence in San Francisco and its environs now and hereafter. A great love for its people," Schwab said. "The Bethlehem magnate will back Joseph Tynan in any recommendation he may make for the development of the steel industry here."Schwab also expressed himself on the matter of foreign entanglements.

FAVORS MATERIALISM.

"Europe charges us with materialism," he said. "Well, I am proud to be a material citizen.
This material nation, because our materialism gives us the power to do good. Here we have no aristocracy of birth; only an aristocracy of usefulness. Let us give material aid to Europe in its distress, but don't let them involve us in their politics."The financier also told the gathering of the most recent acquisition when it took over the Midvale Steel company. The deal was financed by E. G. Grace, president of the Bethlehem, whom Schwab characterized as the greatest steel man in the United States without exception.
The acquisition cost the Bethlehem
"more than a million dollars," according to Schwab, and increases the holdings of the Bethlehem to $50,000,000.The trip around the country in his private car is for pleasure only, the magnate asserted, and he refused to discuss business in detail or the plans for the local units of the Bethlehem corporation. His arrival in Oakland yesterday was preceded by an inspection and purchase of the Tonopah Extension Mining company in Nevada.

HAPPINESS IN BUSINESS.

Throughout all of his talks while he was visiting in Oakland and San Francisco, Schwab emphasized the necessity for happiness in business.
"When I was much younger," he said, "Andrew Carnegie sent me a picture of an old monk. The monk was dressed in shabby rough robes —but he was happy. 'Remember,' said Carnegie to me, 'you can never think well and do well unless you are in a happy frame of mind.'"I never forgot that. It was Carnegie who taught me years ago to stop criticizing and give the people what they are doing the work encouragement and approval for what they were doing."As to his reputation of being the greatest salesman the world has ever seen, Schwab declared: "Selling is like this, so far as my experience goes; it's easier to sell a $5,000,000 proposition to a willing buyer than it is to sell a phonograph to a farmer when he does not want it. I don't claim to be a great salesman. All I do is find the buyer first."Accompanying Schwab on his tour are Mrs. Schwab and some of the local heads of industries in which Schwab is interested.

WIFE ACCUSED OF BIGAMY.

When he married Mrs. Juanita Lane in Santa Cruz on February 10, Manuel F. Silva, declared under a suit for annulment on file today. He avers that his wife married Silva in Oakland on December 17, 1918 and that she had not been divorced when she married him.

WIFE CALLED BOOTLEGGER.

That his wife, Mrs. Theresa Mc-Hugh associated with a man and "contributed to and participated in the unlawful sale of intoxicating liquor" while he was away from their home at 629 Sixteenth street where he conducted a lodging house, is the charge made by John McHugh, in a suit for divorce filed today.

But Lays Down No Rules for Reaching Great AgeMrs. Eunice Crabtree Knows Nothing of Flappers and Likes Politics.

By FRANCES MONTGOMERY.

On a garlanded table in the diningroom of a home in Oakland today there is a newly baked cake.
It is a birthday cake and surrounding it are one hundred candles.As the candles are lighted and the soft light grows to a glittering brilliance, there comes into view the gentle features of a very old lady. The one hundred candles and the birthday cake are for her.Today Mrs. Eunice Crabtree, who resides at 694 Twenty-ninth street, is passing the century mark surrounded by a host of friends.Many years ago when she became a bride, the little old soul who came into her home, the granddaughter of the man she married. She gave the little one a mother's care and cherished her as her own. There were no other children and often the little girl would say to the foster-mother, "When I am big and you are little I will take care of you."Now it has come true and the little girl is a woman and the foster-mother is very small and the woman, who is Mrs. Belle Van Buskirk, is the mothering companion of Mrs. Crabtree.Still active to the extent of going about the house unaided and occasionally taking a short walk outside, this aged woman for the most part sits quietly in her chair.
Until a few years ago she read and was self-informed on topics of the day, particularly those of a political nature, for as she says:"If I were a man I would have been a politician. I have always been interested most in the big men who have in hand the affairs of our country."But now the light is failing and the eyes can no longer read.Paradoxical as it seems, for all Mrs. Crabtree's interests in things political, she has always been known as a home-maker. It has been through her that she has lived in her kitchen and as she says, "Mind my own business." To be the head and guiding hand in a home has ever been the most important thing in life to her."To what do you attribute your longevity?"It was a backhanded question although seldom put to those a century old and the answer was an original one. A faint smile crossed the old lady's face and a wistful expression came there."I just hasn't been able to help it," she answered. "In all my life
I have not been sick and now that I am a hundred I am perfectly well.
I cannot claim even a rheumatic pain."Mrs. Crabtree is a real daughter of 1812, her father having been in the militia at that time. She was born in New York state and has lived in Oakland since '77. She is the older sister, at the point of years of the Order of Eastern Star, in the United States. She comes from a long-lived family, her parents both having lived to be more than 90, and a sister having reached the age of 122.Mrs. Crabtree remembers the girls of her days as modest young maids and matrons whose kingdom was in the vicinity of home and does not know what bobbed hair and short skirts have to do with the girl of today and as for the word "Flapper"—well, she just never heard of the word!This quiet little old lady who sits so still in her rocking chair and apparently does not hear the buzz of many voices about her, passes each day with patient and quiet waiting for the change. She scours a mid-day nap nor does she retire before 9 and is often up at 6 in the morning.When asked what she thought of President Harding's work in the White House, she answered quietly,
"Well, I could not do any better."Dexter Funeral

LOCATION SHIFT FOR TAX OFFICEWOMAN WAKES TO FIND SELF HELD,
DRUGGED BY MANAccidents to Overcrowded Elevators Renews Agitation For Quick Change.Following yesterday's experience with super-crowded elevators in the city hall, plus one elevator accident and another elevator stalled for twelve minutes, officials of the city's finance department today asserted that the city "must" find better means for serving the taxpayers. The present system compels them to pay taxes on the ninth floor of the city hall. During the present rush it is admitted that the four elevators are inadequate.Yesterday was pronounced to be about the most crowded day in years. In addition to the regular taxpayers striving to complete their accounts before December 4, something like 200 school teachers and principals journeyed to the education department on the ninth and eleventh floors to receive their paychecks.

TWO ELEVATORS "OFF."

One elevator, near the ground floor, went below the landing and struck the terminal with a crash, smashing a light globe and shaking up the passengers. Another elevator became "stuck" between floors and a crowd of indignant taxpayers was compelled to wait twelve minutes before the first of them could start downstairs.Many nervous citizens walked down the stairs.City Treasurer Bert Anderson, pleading with the public works department for a better system, asserted to Executive Secretary Ralph York that the present procedure is an "outrage.""We have this tax collection twice a year," says Anderson, "and still the taxpayers have to climb to the ninth floor in droves. The taxpayers should be the first or last to go up."Police investigation disclosed that entrance to the elevator was accomplished by using a jimmy on the front door of the room. The police are working on the theory that robbery was not the motive for Mrs. Snyder's attack.

SYSTEM IS EXPENSIVE.

"The city has hesitated to undergo the expense of moving the treasurer's office to a lower floor, but the present plan is far more expensive. The wear and tear on these old elevators is very costly.
The maintenance of four elevators is costly. The whole business is all wrong."City Auditor Harry Williams agrees that the system is a "shame," and says he protested when the city hall was first built.Executive Secretary Ralph York says he will be glad if the system is changed.Last spring, before the budget season, there was a plan afoot to bring the tax-collecting department where the taxpayers could reach it better, but the project was lost in the shuffle during the long budget discussions."Next year," says Anderson,
"we'll fight for it. This system at present is all wrong. I fervently hope that we will not have to have an illness of several weeks. She was a native of New York city. Her husband also survives her."
